The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination against its customers, employees, and applicants for employment on the bases of race, color, national origin, age, disability, sex, gender identity, religion, reprisal, and where applicable, political beliefs, marital status, familial or parental status, sexual orientation, or all or part of an individual's income is derived from any public assistance program, or protected genetic information in employment or in any program or activity conducted or funded by the Department. (Not all prohibited bases will apply to all programs and/or employment activities.)

If you wish to file an employment complaint, you must contact your agency's EEO Counselor (PDF) within 45 days of the date of the alleged discriminatory act, event, or in the case of a personnel action. Additional information can be found online at http://www.ascr.usda.gov/complaint_filing_file.html.

If you wish to file a Civil Rights program complaint of discrimination, complete the USDA Program Discrimination Complaint Form (PDF), found online at http://www.ascr.usda.gov/complaint_filing_cust.html, or at any USDA office, or call (866) 632-9992 to request the form. You may also write a letter containing all of the information requested in the form. Send your completed complaint form or letter to us by mail at U.S. Department of Agriculture, Director, Office of Adjudication, 1400 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20250-9410, by fax (202) 690-7442 or email at program.intake@usda.gov.

Individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing or have speech disabilities and you wish to file either an EEO or program complaint please contact USDA through the Federal Relay Service at (800) 877-8339 or (800) 845-6136 (in Spanish).

Persons with disabilities who wish to file a program complaint, please see information above on how to contact us by mail directly or by email. If you require alternative means of communication for program information (e.g., Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) please contact USDA's TARGET Center at (202) 720-2600 (voice and TDD).

For any other information dealing with Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) issues, persons should either contact the USDA SNAP Hotline Number at (800) 221-5689, which is also in Spanish or call the State Information/Hotline Numbers. For any other information not pertaining to civil rights, please refer to the listing of the USDA Agencies and Offices for specific agency information.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination in all its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, disability, and where applicable, sex, marital status, familial status, parental status, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, political beliefs, reprisal, or because all or a part of an individual's income is derived from any public assistance program. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact USDA's TARGET Center at (202) 720-2600 (voice and TDD). To file a complaint of discrimination, write to USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, 1400 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC 20250-9410, or call (800) 795-3272 (voice) or (202) 720-6382 (TDD). USDA is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

Preface

Soil health management is a growing concern for many farmers, ranchers, and land managers throughout the western US. Cover crops can be an integral part of a soil health management system by adding diversity to a crop rotation, providing cover, and providing organic matter and living roots to feed the soil food web. According to the NRCS Cover Crop Practice Standard (340), cover crops can be used for the following purposes: reducing erosion from wind and water, increasing soil organic matter content, capturing and recycling or redistributing nutrients in the soil profile, promoting biological nitrogen fixation and reducing energy use, increasing biodiversity, pest and/or weed suppression, soil moisture management, reducing particulate emissions into the atmosphere, and minimizing and reducing soil compaction.

The purpose of this Technical Note is to facilitate the use of cover crops in the West by providing a list of cover crop seed companies and vendors, including sources of organic and untreated seed. Users of this list should note that this is only a partial listing of seed sources (retailers and wholesalers) for each state. If you find the information to be inaccurate, please contact the authors so the list can be updated. This list does not constitute an endorsement of the vendors, nor does it guarantee the reliability or quality of products.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) Plant Materials Program has been involved in the evaluation of conservation plants and planting technology for more than 75 years. For additional information on specific species of plants mentioned in this publication, please see the USDA PLANTS database at: (<http://plants.usda.gov/java/>) or contact the nearest Plant Materials Center or plant materials specialist (<http://plant-materials.nrcs.usda.gov/contact/>) and/or the land grant university that serves the state. For specific information on soils and soil health, please see USDA NRCS soils website at: (<http://www.nrcs.usda.gov/wps/portal/nrcs/site/soils/home/>). Also, see technical resources on the National Plant Materials Program website at: (<http://www.plant-materials.nrcs.usda.gov/>).

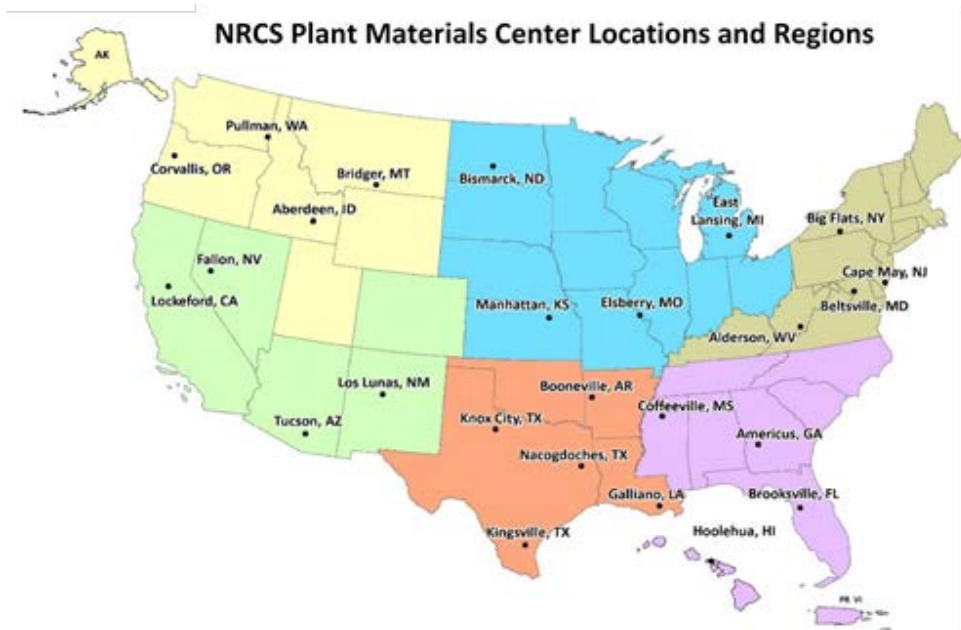

Table 1. Cover Crop Seed Vendors for the Western US

Below is a table of vendors that carry cover crop seed, listed alphabetically by state. Checked boxes indicate whether the vendor carries conventional cover crop seed, certified organic seed, or untreated seed. The table also indicates if the vendor is wholesale only. Many seed companies serve multiple states or the entire country, so it might be worth checking with them if there's not a local vendor listed for your area. In addition to these listed seed vendors, be sure to check with your local farmers' co-op and farm supply store.
